

THE REVOLUTION MAN'S CREED AND COVENANT

The story of the Bible is of a cosmic battle between good and evil. The heart of every man is the battlefield, and God has called him to Revolution.

CREED

God is the all powerful creator of the universe who gives life. He is perfect in both who he is and what he does (John 1:1–5).

God created human beings in his own image, giving them freedom and making them rulers, providers, protectors, lovers and worshipers. (Genesis 1:26; 2:24; 4:1–4; Luke 4:8).

When humanity disobeyed and rejected God, sin was introduced into the world, bringing a cursed life filled with pain, frustration and death—ultimately resulting in separation from God (Genesis 2:17–19).

Since the fall of humanity, God has been waging a cosmic battle against the evil one in order to win back the hearts of those who will join the revolution (2 Timothy 1:9). Christ's death and resurrection guarantees the final victory over sin. When we align ourselves with Christ and follow him, we are guaranteed that we will share his victory.

COVENANT

The Revolution Man is an adventurer, created in the image of Christ who lived the ultimate adventure in dying for the sins of every person. The Revolution Man lives in freedom to choose what is right. He is a warrior in the struggle for souls, pursuing righteousness, godliness, faith and honor. He is a defender of the weak and one who is passionate about purity. He is bold in witness and courageous in deed. The Revolution Man is a lover of God and others—family, friend and enemy alike. He loves as Christ loved the church, always protecting, cherishing and defending.

But you, man of God, flee [evil] and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, endurance and gentleness. Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called when you made your good confession in the presence of many witnesses.

(1 Timothy 6:11–12)

I want to be a Revolution Man . . .
